Why do you want to be appointed to the City Council?
I believe myself to be capable, and I am interested in serving the city. I have had a long standing interest in government, and I have stayed current on local, state, and national issues. When I filled the position for HD34, I really got a wonderful taste of what it's like to serve in a position of leadership. I would like to continue in that spirit by serving the City of Northglenn.
How will your education, training, experience, and knowledge of the community make you a suitable candidate to serve as a member of the City Council?
I studied Economics at the University of Colorado (1999 - 2004) and I have extensive experience running my small business. I think the Northglenn City Council could use another business person on the team.

In your opinion, what are the most important issues facing the City and how would you propose they be addressed?
The current issues are (in general) managing the growth effectively, but more specifically, is to see the new Rec Center project come to fruition.
What vision do you have for the City of Northglenn?
I see a bright future for the very well built ranch houses that are very popular in Northglenn. We have a very affordable housing compared to much of metro Denver, so we run the risk of becoming a magnet for an unbalanced amount of low-income population, which can create a snowball effect of negative outcomes... But conversely, we have a older population, which is starting to change and become younger- So we have many young people that want to have families, and renovate those houses that are affordable, and renew and reinvigorate our city.
In reviewing the City's 2020 Budget, what are you most excited about and why?
The largest item has me the most excited. The building of the new Recreation Center will be a very big issue, and I'm sure we'll be dealing with amendments, and changes, and dealing with community outreach regarding that project.
If the Council is debating an item that is, for you, a particularly strong emotional issue, how would you maintain your objectivity?
My nature is to try to think of issues objectively. I try not to inject my emotions into political/governmental issues. I find it odd when others get overly emotional about issues, and have difficulty thinking and communicating logically.
